

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
W. N. HALDEMAN & R. T. DURRETT
UNDER THE STYLE OF HALDEMAN & DURRETT.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Daily Courier per year, in advance, $5.00
Weekly Courier, per year, in advance, $2.00 or, five copies to a club one year, $10.00
or, two copies to a club one year, $20.00
No paper sent out unless paid for in advance.
No extra charge for postage on papers sent by mail.
First column on first page for particulars as to advertising.

LOUISVILLE:
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1858.

The Jeffersonville Railroad is the direct route between Louisville, St. Louis, Cairo, Kansas, Chicago, Springfield, Decatur and the principal cities in the West and North.

Trains on this route, for connection at Seymour with Trains on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, St. Louis and the West, and Cincinnati and the East; also at Indianapolis with the different roads for all places East, West and North.

Only one change of cars between Louisville and St. Louis, Cincinnati or Chicago. Baggage checked to all the principal cities. For time and further particulars examine advertisement to another column of this paper.

Through tickets given to all the principal cities on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers; also to all the principal places in the East, West and North.

Office No. 637, southeast corner Main and Third streets, Louisville, Ky., where travelers can examine map and get further correct information. mch26:ly

Reading Matter on every page.

Story on the Constitution.

A third edition of Judge Story's Commentaries on the Constitution of the United States, has been issued by Messrs. Little, Brown & Co., of Boston. The mechanical execution of this work is in every respect worthy of this eminent firm, decidedly the first publishing house in the United States.

When we look at the smooth, elegant and substantial binding, the excellent paper, and the clean, bold and beautiful type, which the publications of this enterprising house are issued, we are reminded of our Kentucky Reports, botched, blurred, and awry, we feel a regret that they had not looked with sufficient favor upon our decisions to send them out to the world in their inimitable dress.

We call the attention of the law students who are beginning to look in to attend our admirable law school, to the fact that there is no more text-book, laid down in the programme of their studies. It certainly merits careful study from every one who desires a clear and comprehensive understanding of the Constitution of the United States.

Judge Story very fairly states the various theories of the constitution, and very ably argues his own, which is the accepted one of the statesmen of old-school federalist—namely, that Congress is pretty nearly as omnipotent as the British Parliament, and that the federal government is a centralized sovereignty, transcending and centralizing in its authority the power of the federal States.

This is a most prejudicial doctrine, and is repeated by the most able of our statesmen. The Democratic doctrine, that recognizes the sovereignty of the States, and limits the power of the general government, is most clearly expounded in the writings of Jefferson and Madison, and can be found well stated in the notes of Tucker's Blackstone.

The extreme right view is also presented in Mr. Calhoun's notes on the Kentucky Student has in the bold and noble protest of the Kentucky resolutions of 1797, and the Virginia resolutions of 1798, a legacy which may look as a Declaration of Rights, clearly defining the nicely balanced powers of our limited Constitutional Government.

The author's work, it is rather the substance of value of Judge Story's work, that is the standpoint, different from that accepted at present by the great mass of the people of our country. The only error is in which we think that law teachers are apt to indulge, is in placing Story and Kent in the hands of their students, as a standard, without warning that there is another and another theory from that advanced by these eminent Federalists. In conclusion, we must say to the aspiring student, that the learned author smooths many constitutional difficulties, expatiates where many briefly touch, and embodies in his book a statement of the adjudications on constitutional law, which is to be found nowhere else in so well defined and so carefully arranged form. Text books, such as these, are not indeed the local products of thought in the great city of letters, but they are the gateways by which we enter in, and in literary merit, grace of style, thoroughness of research, Story on the Constitution deserves to be styled a "Golden Portal" to Constitutional law.

The October Elections.

Eight of the States of the Union have held elections this month. Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, and Iowa held their State elections on Monday, the 4th; North Carolina on Monday, the 11th; and, on yesterday, which was Tuesday, the 12th, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana held theirs. These eight States send 71 Representatives to Congress in the following proportions: Georgia, 10; Florida, 1; Mississippi, 5; Iowa, 3; North Carolina, 11; Pennsylvania, 25; Ohio, 21; and Indiana, 11. In the last Congress these States had 47 Democrats, 30 Black Republicans, and 2 Know Nothings, or a majority of 15 Democrats over both Black Republicans and Know Nothings. The party division according to States was:

State	Dem.	R. R. K. N.
Pennsylvania	13	10
Ohio	8	15
Indiana	6	5
Georgia	4	2
South Carolina	6	2
Mississippi	5	2
Iowa	3	2
Florida	1	1
Total	47	30

The returns of the elections yesterday and Monday's proceeding will, no doubt, show a different result. We know not what the difference will be, and shall not attempt to predict. We shall be able to tell in a few days, and the result will then serve our readers for valuable reference.

Register of the Land Office—E. F. Waide.

A letter from Henry—the home of the best and of Democracy—recommends E. F. Waide, Esq., of Lagrange, as a suitable candidate for Register of the Land Office. Mr. Waide has always been a consistent Democrat, and is one of the best and most reliable men in the State. His strict business habits, untiring industry, gentlemanly bearing, and generous heart, have won him the esteemed friend of all who know him. There is no man in the State who would make a better State Register, and if the convention on the 5th of January shall give him the nomination, the Democracy will be proud of the way in which he will make the canvass and fill the office, to the benefit of the State, and devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

We publish another letter, this morning, in favor of Prof. Wm. W. Harvey for this office. No one will suit the place better than Prof. Harvey, and the place will suit him in this confidence. He is devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Register of the Land Office—E. F. Waide.

A letter from Henry—the home of the best and of Democracy—recommends E. F. Waide, Esq., of Lagrange, as a suitable candidate for Register of the Land Office. Mr. Waide has always been a consistent Democrat, and is one of the best and most reliable men in the State. His strict business habits, untiring industry, gentlemanly bearing, and generous heart, have won him the esteemed friend of all who know him. There is no man in the State who would make a better State Register, and if the convention on the 5th of January shall give him the nomination, the Democracy will be proud of the way in which he will make the canvass and fill the office, to the benefit of the State, and devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

We publish another letter, this morning, in favor of Prof. Wm. W. Harvey for this office. No one will suit the place better than Prof. Harvey, and the place will suit him in this confidence. He is devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Register of the Land Office—E. F. Waide.

A letter from Henry—the home of the best and of Democracy—recommends E. F. Waide, Esq., of Lagrange, as a suitable candidate for Register of the Land Office. Mr. Waide has always been a consistent Democrat, and is one of the best and most reliable men in the State. His strict business habits, untiring industry, gentlemanly bearing, and generous heart, have won him the esteemed friend of all who know him. There is no man in the State who would make a better State Register, and if the convention on the 5th of January shall give him the nomination, the Democracy will be proud of the way in which he will make the canvass and fill the office, to the benefit of the State, and devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

We publish another letter, this morning, in favor of Prof. Wm. W. Harvey for this office. No one will suit the place better than Prof. Harvey, and the place will suit him in this confidence. He is devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Register of the Land Office—E. F. Waide.

A letter from Henry—the home of the best and of Democracy—recommends E. F. Waide, Esq., of Lagrange, as a suitable candidate for Register of the Land Office. Mr. Waide has always been a consistent Democrat, and is one of the best and most reliable men in the State. His strict business habits, untiring industry, gentlemanly bearing, and generous heart, have won him the esteemed friend of all who know him. There is no man in the State who would make a better State Register, and if the convention on the 5th of January shall give him the nomination, the Democracy will be proud of the way in which he will make the canvass and fill the office, to the benefit of the State, and devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

We publish another letter, this morning, in favor of Prof. Wm. W. Harvey for this office. No one will suit the place better than Prof. Harvey, and the place will suit him in this confidence. He is devoted in both body and soul to the cause of Democracy, and would take a noble pride in the place. He has long been a teacher, and though now a lawyer, would much rather be at the head of the cause of education in our State. He is a fine scholar, a noble gentleman, and a devoted friend of the cause of education.

Our Comet.

The comet now visible in our heavens has been making its way toward us for some time at the rate of 20,000 miles per hour. On the 7th of this month it got as near to this earth as five miles, and shot off in another direction at the rate of its former approach. It will not take it long, in traveling 20,000 miles per hour, to get out of our region.

This is the most important of three comets now visible in the heavens. It was discovered by Professor Donati, of Florence, some five months since, and takes the professor's name. The other two take the names of their discoverers also. They are distinguished from one another as follows:

Donati's.—In the constellation Ursa Major, rising 3h. 10m. from the northeast by north; sets 3h. 44m. P. M., northwest by north.

Encke's.—In the constellation Cygnus, rises 1h. 7m. P. M., northeast; sets 3h. 17m. P. M., northwest.

Tuttle's.—In the constellation Perseus. This comet has just passed within the circle of perpetual apparition, and therefore does not set to us. It is on the meridian above the pole, at 3h. 34m. in the morning.

Astronomers have all seen a good deal about this comet, and we have all seen and admired it. We do not know as much about it, however, as we should like to know. It is a stranger, even at best. We don't apprehend any danger from it, for the age of superstition about comets has passed, and the comet is no longer a portent, but a body of our own kind, and no more a portent, but a body of our own kind, and no more a portent, but a body of our own kind.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

We should like, however, for some spiritualist to visit the comet, and tell how big its head, how long its tail, and what it is made of. An epistolical visit from some of the planets and published an account of what he saw there. The following from the Springfield Republican is a specimen of the account given of the trip to Mars and Jupiter:

Rev. T. L. Harris, who has swung around from the "Universalist" into the New Jerusalem church by means of spiritualism, has lately visited the planets Mars and Jupiter—we take his word for it, and he has returned with a long and interesting account of his journey. He met Walter Scott, who took of his tail to him here, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone, and he met the comet, which he saw on his way to a wedding, however, and soon left him to explore alone.

NOTICES.

One of the many certificates just received from another eminent physician recommending the use of Dr. R. P. Porter's Oriental Life Liniment.

HOPKINS CO., Ky., Sept. 30, 1858.
Dr. R. P. Porter, Louisville, Ky.—Dear Sir: Owing to the sickly season and the great pressure I have not had time to pay much attention to the sale of your Liniment. I have, however, just sold ten bottles, and you must know for some. In addition to which, I would state that I have used it in many cases of chronic rheumatism, and in some of the most obstinate and valuable remedy. A short time ago I cured completely a fine female horse that had the swellings, few joints, and was unable to move.

I shall continue, sir, to use your Liniment in my practice, and recommend it in the highest terms for the above and many other external diseases.

I would further state, sir, I believe that when the real merits and efficacy of your Oriental Life Liniment is established throughout the United States, all quick medicines that assume and abuse the name of liniment will, necessarily, by like chaff before the wind—perish, or become entirely obsolete, to give way to your invaluable remedy.

I remain, sir, respectfully yours,
E. H. HARRIS, M. D.

Another Case of Dyspepsia.—BALTIMORE, N. Y., March 1, 1858.
C. C. Jackson, Jr., Esq.: Having received great benefit from the use of Dr. R. P. Porter's Oriental Life Liniment, I think it my duty as a friend of mankind to state that I have been afflicted with Dyspepsia, arising from affection of the liver and derangement of the stomach. I was treated by the use of various remedies, but obtained no relief. I was induced, through the advice of a friend, to commence the use of your Oriental Life Liniment, according to directions, three bottles, which entirely cured me, and I now find myself in as good health as I ever enjoyed.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN C. QUEENES.

Ask for Hubbard's German Bitters. Take nothing else, and seal the signature of C. W. Jackson on the wrapper of each bottle. These Bitters are for sale by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canada, West Indies, and South America, at 25 cents per bottle.

The Blixir, prepared by Dr. Jas. Williams for the cure of Dyspepsia, (as advertised in other columns) has, by its own merits, obtained for itself so high a reputation in Philadelphia, that physicians acquainted with its properties, as it is, and its efficacy, have been induced to use it, and have been convinced by observation of its power in restoring the disordered digestive organs to healthy function. Numerous cases of Dyspepsia of the most aggravated character, which were abandoned as incurable by some of the medical faculty, have, by the use of this "Blixir," alone, been restored to perfect health.

NEW ALBANY AND SALT RAILROAD.—SHORT LINE ROUTE.—Running through Chicago and Saint Louis with only one change of cars. Connecting with Ohio and Mississippi Railroad at Mitchell, St. Louis, Kansas and the West. For Cairo, Memphis and the South, connecting at Lafayette, Bloomington, Springfield and all points in Illinois. Connecting at Chicago for all points in the West. Through trains for St. Louis, one daily for Chicago (Sunday excepted); one train Sunday for St. Louis and Cairo. Passengers and baggage taken from any part of the city and conveyed to the cars free of charge. For general information and through tickets apply at Short Line Ticket Office, 555 Main street, (south side), between Second and Third, Louisville, Ky.

LADIES DRESS GOODS.—We take pleasure in inviting the attention of ladies to the large and splendid assortment of fancy dry goods, now on exhibition and for sale at the store of G. B. Tabb, corner of Market and Fourth streets. He is daily receiving goods from New York of the latest styles. His stock of Silks, Mantles, Cloaks, Delaines, Poplins, Cloths, Shawls, Embroideries, Laces, and Evening Dress Goods is the latest in the city. A large and varied assortment of Domestic Goods of every description, at the lowest market prices. In a word, we would say to all those in search of the richest and newest goods to call at the store of G. B. Tabb, corner Market and Fourth streets, and you will be fully repaid for your trouble.

LIBRARY AND CHOICE DRY GOODS.—As the season is now at hand for the purchase of choice goods, we would call the attention of our readers to the assortment of elegant goods to be found at Martin & Panton's, 55 Fourth street, who have now on hand elegant Silks, Robes of various styles; Printed and Robe Delaines, for ladies and misses; Cashmere and Heavy Shawls; Lace Trimmings; Embroideries; Kid Gloves; Hosiery; Negro wear; Cloths and Calicoes; Hosiery; all at low prices. Goods; Thill Beries; Cloaks and Raglans; Pocket Skirts, of latest styles; a full stock of White and Domestic Goods; Traveling Dress Goods; Merinoes, Ladies' Underwear; Cloaking Cloths and Velvets; Gingham, etc., which they are prepared to offer at the very best figures, as the greater part of their stock has been purchased at New York.

MARTIN & PANTON, 55 Fourth street.

MONET LOAN.—Ladies of gentleman requiring loans of any amount on Diamonds, Plate, etc., can be accommodated by applying at the Exchange office, 63 Third street, next door to the Court office.

Business prompt, honorable, and strictly confidential. (sept 16:ly) A. H. HAND.

CHILLS! CHILLS! CHILLS!

HUGHES' TONIC is a most valuable and reliable compound of Chills and Fever in all cases, and particularly in delicate females and children. It is a powerful tonic, acting on the system, and by giving tone to the stomach and liver, restoring the system to its natural vigor. In the effect it has on the system, producing headache, dizziness, nausea, or any other ailment, it is a most valuable remedy. Its efficacy can be seen at our store at any time.

STUTTGART & HUGHER, Proprietors.

For sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

LOUISVILLE AND FRANKFORT RAILROAD.

ON and after Monday, October 15th, 1858, Trains will leave Louisville daily (Sundays excepted), as follows:

FIRST TRAIN.—5:00 A. M., stopping 10 minutes for breakfast at Lagrange, and at all stations where flagged, except Fair Ground, and terminating at Lexington, leaving at Lexington via railroad and stage for Louisville, Danville, Lexington, and all other points. Second TRAIN.—Leaves Louisville at 10:00 A. M., stopping at Lexington via railroad and stage for Louisville, Danville, Lexington, and all other points. Third TRAIN.—Leaves Louisville at 1:00 P. M., stopping at Lexington via railroad and stage for Louisville, Danville, Lexington, and all other points. Fourth TRAIN.—Leaves Louisville at 4:00 P. M., stopping at Lexington via railroad and stage for Louisville, Danville, Lexington, and all other points.

For Tickets for Danville, Harrodsburg, Lexington, and all other points, apply at the Ticket Office, 555 Main street, (south side), between Second and Third, Louisville, Ky.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.

COFFEE.—50 lbs strictly choice Rio Coffee, for sale by G. B. TABB, corner Market and Fourth streets.</

